Representative J. W. Seigler of Saluda County, was in town yesterday. Mr. Seigler is one of Saluda's most industrious farmers, and is held in high esteem by all who know him.

Mr. W. W. Padgett of the Emory section, was in town yesterday. Mr. Padgett is one of Saluda's staunchest citizens. He left us with a warm heart.

You cannot enjoy perfect health, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes if your liver is sluggish and your bowels clogged. DeWitt's Little Early Risers cleanse the whole system. They never grip. F. B. Gunter.

Col. B. Hoyt Hartley formerly of Batesburg, but now of Atlanta, Ga., was in town Sunday on a visit to his parents. Mr. & Mrs. D. P. Hartley.

The Col. is employed as Chief Trace Clerk of the Seaboard Air Line in Atlanta and is deservedly popular with the Railroad officials. He has a host of friends in this town who are always glad to see him.

Spring coughs are especially dangerous unless cured at once, serious results often follow. One Minute Cough Cure acts like magic. It is not a common mixture but is a high grade remedy. F. B. Gunter.

On Sunday afternoon some rude boys disturbed the peace by rolling several cars a distance of about 50 yds., causing them to run against each other making a considerable noise. Such is annoying to the peaceable public as well as the railroad company.

"Last winter I was confined to my bed with a very bad cold on the lungs. Nothing gave me relief. Finally my wife bought a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure that effected a speedy cure. I cannot speak too highly of that excellent remedy."—Mr. T. K. Houseman, Tanatony, Pa. F. B. Gunter.

While the writer did not attend the B. Y. P. U. Convention at Charleston, he feels confident that some of the prettiest young ladies in the State was in attendance. We only judge from imaginary pictures drawn on our mind by one of the Batesburg delegates, whose taste is highly cultivated. The clever young gentleman kindly ask us to remark his love-ship, and set the sails in the direction of the City by the Sea.

"Had piles so bad I could get no rest nor find a cure until I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. After using it once I forgot I ever had anything like Piles."—F. L. Boice, Somers Point, Look out for imitations. Be sure you ask for DeWitt's. F. B. Gunter.

Miss Clara Smith has for the past few months pleased the scholars and patrons of the Spring Branch school so well in her earnest effort in preparing her pupils for a successful career in this world that she was elected unanimously as our teacher for the next term of school, and as she accepted it seemed to place a look of consolation upon the faces of her pupils. It was very sad to see the tear stained faces upturned towards her's as they bade good-bye. May happiness always attend her—"Pupil" to Barnwell People.

"I have been troubled with indigestion for ten years, have tried many things and spent much money to no purpose until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, I have taken two bottles and gotten more relief from them than all other medicines taken. I feel more like a boy than I have felt in twenty years."—Anderson Riggs of Sonny Lane, Tex. Thousands have testified as did Mr. Riggs.

Verdict Sustained.

We omitted to state in our last week's issue, that the State Supreme Court had sustained the verdict rendered in the lower court, allowing damages to the extent of $2,700 in the case of J. B. Youngblood against the So. Ry. It will be remembered that Mr. Youngblood lost his right arm while in the employ of the So. Ry. in the city of Columbia, Feb. 8, 1898.

Suit for $10,000 damages was instituted and a verdict of $2,700 secured in the lower court—this, the higher court sustains.

You will waste time if you try to cure indigestion or indigestion or dyspepsia by starving yourself. That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You always need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it.

LAMP OF LEARNING.

IT STILL BURNS BRIGHTLY AT THE SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE. (By the Rev. E. A. Wingard, D. D.)

On the granite hills which tower o'er the rapid, rushing tide, Where the broad, with murreted pledges, Greets Saluda as his bride; Where the mingling of the waters In their union full and free, Give an off-spring bold and mighty, In the tawny Congaree.

On these hills now warm and burnished With the glow of summer skies, There "the pride of State and City" Meets the glance of loving eyes; Where our fathers wrought and builded, There our college proudly stands, And her pillared halls are sacred With the touch of vanished hands.

It was here that Maxcy guided To the realms of higher thought, It was here the glorious Barnwell All his mental treasures brought, It was here that Preston lectured With his golden tongue aflame, It was here that Thorneill added To these walls his deathless fame.

Lo her soul! They start with Harper, One without reproach or shame, Whom we rise to hold in reverence At the mention of his name; And from them till now her children Have been leaders of the State, Winning glory from disaster, Beating down the bars of fate.

Not from piles of sculptured marble, Though her halls are fair to see, Will her fame be spread in story, In the ages yet to be; But the one who writes her history, Will inscribe with burning pen, How she carried her noblest records In the lives of noble men.

Let the hostile hand be palsied That would tear her pillows down! And the breath of judgment wither All who smirch her fair renown! By a thousand sacred memories She is wedded to the State, And for glory or dishonor Each must share the self-same fate.

But see a glorious vision Springing from the days to be, When our schools of learning scattered Round her form their light will shed, Always gathering added brightness From the lustre of her dead.

Delivered at Commencement of S. C. College, June, 1897.
